Nearly 100 years before the World Trade Towers became associated with September 11, Mohandas K. Gandhi launched the modern nonviolent movement on September 11, 1906.

New Yorkers for a Department of Peace and the M.K. Gandhi Institute for Nonviolence are sponsoring 100 Years of Nonviolence: Gandhi and September 11, 1906-2006 – a campaign of nationwide screenings of the movie Gandhi on September 11, 2006 to commemorate this 100-year anniversary.
